

MICA

Mica is an international student from Shanghai China. She came to the United States on a full ride scholarship for volleyball. When she got here she had no idea who Jesus was, and wanted nothing to do with any "religion". There was a student on her team named Cate, Cate was a small group leader with XA. She started inviting her to small group and large group, and although it took a couple months, Mica finally came. Mica got implemented into the community fast. People started going to their games and supporting her, and she loved the community. She still wanted nothing to do with Jesus though. The community began to fight for her in prayer. They would learn to do what she loved to do, and people would just take her out and bring up Jesus whenever they could. One day, about a year into being in FBX, Mica started asking for prayer. This was a big moment since she did not believe in God. Then more and more questions started to come. She started asking people to take her to church, and to discuss the message with her. It was in this moment that Cate and Heather, two of her XA friends, started to ask Mica if she wanted to give her life to Christ. Although she was hesitant at first, she finally decided YES! When asked why she chose this, she said that she watched how everyone loved God and loved her, and she realized that God has that love for her as well. God wants what is best for her, and is there to guide her and be with her no matter what. She could not deny that anymore. This last month Cate actually got to baptize Mica, and now Mica is moving to WA, and has already asked us to connect her with a church. Hopefully she can then go on after that to take this truth to Shanghai.
